Cookie Policy

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed onto the computer's hard drive. Once the user agrees, the file is added and the cookie helps examine web traffic or lets the user know when they visit a particular site.

Essentially, cookies allow web applications to respond to the user as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to the user's needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about their preferences.

Overall, cookies help EcoNorth provide users with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages users find useful and which they do not. A cookie does NOT give us access to users' computers or any information about them, other than the data they choose to share with us.

Users can choose to accept or decline cookies. Although most web browsers automatically accept cookies, users can usually modify their browser setting to decline cookies to their preference. However, this may prevent users from taking full advantage of our website.

We use cookies on our website and we assume users are comfortable with this. If not, users should disable cookies in their browser or navigate away and clear cookies set by our website.

Cookies on EcoNorth's website are used for:

- Analytical/performance purposes – this allows us to recognise and calculate the number of visitors and to see how visitors navigate around the website when they are using it, therefore, helping us improve our website functionality eg by ensuring that users can find what they are looking for easily.
- Functionality purposes – to help us recognise users when they return to our website. This allows us to personalise our content for users and remember their preferences and settings (eg their choice of language or region).
- Sharing purposes – this allows users to share pages with social networks such as Facebook and Twitter.

If you have any questions regarding our Cookie Policy, then please email us: enquiries@econorth.co.uk.
